WELCOME LETTER

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

I feel honored to have the responsibility to chair the IUNS 21st International Congress of Nutrition to be held in Buenos Aires, October 15th – 20th, 2017.

The Sociedad Argentina de Nutrición (SAN) will be in charge of the Congress management. This renowned society was founded in 1941 by the scientist Prof. Pedro Escudero, pioneer in Latin America.

For ten years the SAN has been working together with Nutrition Societies of the Southern Cone, Brazil, Bolivia, Uruguay and Chile in the field of Nutrition Quality Education in medical schools, as well as joint activities with other scientific related societies.

The IUNS 21st International Congress of Nutrition (ICN) is a four yearly meeting that’s been held since 1946. Its 21st edition will be based in Buenos Aires for the first time in its history.

It is my pleasure to invite you to experience this vibrant multicultural metropolis designated “City of Design” by UNESCO. Its wide range of cultural scenarios will amaze you.

We are currently designing the scientific activities according to the motto “From Sciences to Nutrition Security” with the aim of encouraging the exchange of knowledge in order to achieve the improvement of Nutrition Security.

We intend to focus on every aspect of nutrition issues going through a wide variety of topics which will be dealt with from different perspectives in order to enrich our attendees’ points of view.

Let me mention the pillars of our preliminary programme:

1. Advances in Nutrition Research
2. Nutrition Through Life Course
3. Public Health Nutrition and Environment
4. Nutrition and Management of Diseases
5. Nutrients and Nutritional Assessment
6. Functional Foods and Bioactive Compounds
7. Food Culture Practices and Nutritional Education
8. Agriculture, Food Science and Safety

Our main goal is to offer you a high-level meeting focused on addressing the key aspects of nutrition in a multicultural environment, from state-of-the-art reviews to cutting edge nutritional science information.

We hope to cover all your needs in 2017 and we are looking forward to giving you the warmest welcome.

See you soon in Buenos Aires!

The City - Buenos Aires

History

The City of Buenos Aires was founded twice. It was first founded in 1536, when the Spanish colonizer Pedro de Mendoza established the first settlement. He named it ‘Ciudad del Espíritu Santo y Puerto Santa María del Buen Ayre’ (City of the Holy Spirit and Port Saint Mary of the Good Air). The second and final foundation was made by Juan de Garay in 1580, who named the city ‘Ciudad de Trinidad’ (City of Trinity).

During the second half of the nineteenth century, the port was the point of arrival for the big immigration wave promoted by the Argentine State to populate the nation. Spanish, Italians, Syrian-Lebanese, Poles and Russians engraved on Buenos Aires that cultural eclecticism which distinguishes it.

Throughout the twentieth century, successive internal migration from Latin America and the Orient made Buenos Aires a cosmopolitan city, where people from different cultures and religions live together.

Climate

The City of Buenos Aires has a mild climate all year round. With an average annual temperature of 18 °C (64 °F) and just a very few days of intense heat or cold, Buenos Aires can be visited at any time of year.

The coldest month is July. Although frosts are rare, it is recommendable to go out with a wool coat, a jacket or overcoat and scarf. In winter the cold is moderate during the day, but at night the temperature drops considerably. In summer the heat is humid. Mornings are warm, while around midday and early afternoon temperatures rise significantly. At night, the heat decreases slightly, so fresh and light clothing is used and there is no need for coats.
The wettest seasons are spring and autumn (March to June and September to December). There are mild or brief showers that do not affect the various activities available and you can walk down the street with an umbrella or raincoat.

On sunny days of autumn and spring, mornings are cool, around noon the thermometer rises to a nice temperature and drops again at night.

Gastronomy

The gastronomy of the City of Buenos Aires is the result of ongoing encounters between different products and ethnicities. Here is where the countryside and the city merged, the longstanding settler and the recent immigrant, the European and the Native American. These culinary fusions are taking place since colonial times and gave the Food of this city its very own characteristics.

This is why dishes such as stew, roast, pizza, pasta and the Hispanic rice meals, coexist with the Arabian kebbe, los Milanese, Vienna sausages, French patisserie and the recent Asian dishes. This amalgamation has been forming a vital and dynamic cuisine, which is still forging its identity.
